Driven From Attack to Defense, Candidate Willson Gets Angry.

From setting the pace for his associate orators in attacking the democratic record in the administration of public affairs, Augustus E. Willson, republican gubernatorial candidate, has been put on the defensive within the past week, responding to leading attacks upon his own record as a lawyer and a man of truth, and in making that defense he has lost his head and now resorts in the last days of the campaign to abuse of the men against whom he is making a race before the intelligent voters of Kentucky. He has been called and proven a falsifier within that space of time and is unable to respond except through use of the words "incompetent" and "tumble-bug," applied to the men who have him on the griddle and are punishing him. "Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad," is an old saying, and Mr. Willson is certainly mad these days.

The distinguished candidate of the republican party first side-stepped issues of the campaign; he has always been dodging the real live issues, when he declared in a public speech that W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, had been paid $500 a day to come to Kentucky and make a speech from a special train in the interest of Judge Hager, Gov. Beckham and those running with them in this campaign. For this deliberate falsehood, he was quickly called by State Chairman Henry B. Hines, of the democratic committee, and by the Hon. Urey Woodson, of Owensboro, who was instrumental in getting the distinguished Nebraskan to visit the State this Fall. His answer was that he couldn't prove a word he had uttered in the matter nor in any way justify his insult to the great leader of the National Democracy. In attempting to respond to the serious charge preferred by Hon. J. Morgan Chinn, of Mercer, that he is the hired attorney in Kentucky of the Tobacco Trust, Mr. Willson has placed himself in a most ridiculous and at the fort Journal. same time pitiable condition for a man seeking before the honest and liberty loving people of Kentucky the high office of governor of the State. First declaring that he had been employed by the trust in but a single case in the Kentucky courts, Mr. Willson was forced by a showing of the public records to admit that he had represented one or another branch of the iniquitous trust in other cases. He then sought to extricate himself from the position by declaring that he had been gotten into the second case because of having won a similar case just previous to the filing of this second case. Relying upon this explanation, he declared other man to be the real Kentucky lawyer for the "Tobacco Trust," and gave expression to his real feeling in a decbe a trust lawyer and still at the, same time properly and equitably administer the affairs of the people and not have any leaning in the direction of his employer of the swollen fortune. Either Mr. Willson isn't the lawyer or astute man whom he has been advertised to be, or he thinks the people of Kentucky, the constituency whom he would like to represent as governor, are slow thinking. He had no sooner declared that he was drawn into the Continental Tobacco Company case, that one in which he sought for them to evade the payment of $100,000 into the public treasury of the city of Louisville as taxes, through employment in a similar case for the Mengel Box Co. than Mr. Chinn, the democrat who first called the attention of the public to his trust connection, disclosed to the public, whom Mr. nental Tobacco Co., and by Mr. Duke, the Tobacco King of the United States, and that in reality the company in whose fight he learned the tactics to be employed in the Continental case is but Angered intensely at this exposure of his trust and monied connections, this republican lawyer showed his bitterness in attacks of a violent nature upon A. Owsley Stanley, the Congressman and Tobacco Growers Association orator of Western Kentucky, and upon Gov. Beckham, Judge Hager and Congressman Ollie M. James, of the First Congressional District. He referred to the distinguished Kentuckian who has occupied the governor's chair for eight distance is to be 12 miles, and the cost years and who is the nominee of the democratic party for a seat in the United States Senate as "Cripsy." He re- will have $87,500,000 capital. ferred to Judge Hager, who has a State wide reputation for ability and honesty in public affairs, as "Incompetent," and dismissed the brainy Congressman from the First District as a "Tumble-Bug." These remarks are well in keeping with a man who would denounce the greatest democratic leader of the century as a paid orator. They are such as would be uttered by a hired man of the wealthy classes of this country who have no regard for the great masses of this country, and who credit no man with being honest or with having an honest purpose. The democrats attacked in such fashion will pay no heed to Mr. Willson's references, knowing them to emanate from a man who has lost his head through realizing that the people of Kentucky are about to turn him down, as have the people of the Fifth Congressional District before this time, when he sought to represent them. Mr. James, in a speech at Danville referred to the anger of Mr. Willson and said that he, James, doubtless recalled the "Tumble-bug" to Mr. Willson for he and other democratic campaigners had been "rolling him around some" since they had gotten him "on the run," as a result of his trust connections.

A WEEK from to-day the battle of the ballots will be waged and while we are neither a profit nor the son of one, we predict a glorious victory for the splendid ticket which will be found under the rooster in the first column on the ballot. Everything points to democratic success and there is every reason for it. The work that has been accomplished by the democratic administration since the reins of government were taken from the republicans, should continue in power for all time to come the party which has brought order out of chaos, peace and prosperity out of peril and adversity and which has placed Kentucky on the firm foundation, financially and otherwise, she now stands. The republicans promise to do great things if given the opportunity, but that party of promises has been weighed and found wanting and the hue and cry the candidates and their spellbinders are making will be of no avail. Four years of republican misrule is enough for Kentucky and Kentuckians and they will steer clear of such a calamity as another term of them in office would be. Besides the ticket nominated by primary in November last, there also appears in the democratic column the name of Hon. C. C. McChord for Rail-name of Hon. C. C. McChord for Rail-ident.

Intense interest is manifested in McChord's peculiar fitness for the office he desires to hold for another term entitles him to your vote and other help. His work since he became a member of the commission has attracted widespread attention and the freight payers all over Kentucky are grateful to him for his efficient services. The last name on the democratic ticket is that of Mr. W. H. Shanks, nominee for Representative. In naming Mr. Shanks as their standard bearer the democracy of Lincoln honored itself and will add further laurels when it elects him by an overwhelming majority, as it will do a week hence. The most intense and partisan republican can not pick a flaw in Mr. Shanks, while the more honest and liberal admit that he is a model young man and would make a good Representative. A stamp in the CIRCLE under the rooster is all that is necessary. Be sure to stamp there and your vote will be recorded for the entire democratic ticket, headed by Hon. Samuel Wilbur Hager, the next governor of Kentucky. After AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON, Republican nominee for Governor, in his speech delivered at Hopkins Theater, Louisville, said that if he is elected Governor of Kentucky he will see to it that Taylor is brought back from Indiana to stand trial for alleged complicity in the murder of Gov. William Goebel. He said that if Taylor does not come back on his invitation, he will issue a requisition for his return, and that his requisition will be honored by the Indiana Governor. Mr. Willson did not state that he would appoint a partisan of the comforts that money will buy as Judge to try Powers but he will do so when the entire family is in perfect if he has the opportunity. One of the best foods for making hens lay is lean meat. When the supply of eggs fail, stop all other feeds and feed lean meat or liver, any cheap meats will answer, and it will be found superior to any thing else that can be used. Green bone, containing a large portion of lean meat, is even better, provided the fat portion is removed from the bone. It will be found cheaper than grain, because it will make eggs. One reason why the hens fail to lay when they have plenty hens fail to lay when they have plenty of grain is that they require a change, and meat supplies the needful. If the hens are fat, give one ounce of lean meat each day, allowing no feed for a week or two, and watch the results.

Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, or stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. chance. It is toying with the child's present and future health.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and nothing better for the purpose is known than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It never gripes but acts gently and as it has a pleasant taste the child will not refuse to take it. Buy a 50 cent or 51 bottle of your druggist and save the child from sickness. You should remember that a child whose stomach is in good working order is not likely to catch colds and fever diseases.

Mrs. Curry, of Trowbridge, Ill., attributes the remarkable health of her child to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she gives regularly in these disorders. Mrs. Eversole, of Hinsboro, Ill., is frank to say that the present good condition of her five-year-old boy is entirely due to this wonderful remedy. Try it in your own family and see if you cannot share these opinions. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for.

1. In choosing eggs always pick out those that have a dull, opaque-looking shell in preferaence to those that have a shiny one.

2. To boil a cracked egg, wrap it up in paper before putting it in water; none of the contents will then escape.

3. Eggs that have been cooked (boiled) and not eaten can be treated as uncooked ones and boiled over again the same time as before.

4. To insure an egg not cracking when boiling hold it in a spoon containing hot water for a few seconds before placing it in boiling water.
